

COMPASS INSURANCE AGENCY

THE OPPORTUNITY

The Compass Insurance project involved a 15,000 square foot renovation of an existing building, located on Ann Street and alongside the Grand River. The insurance agency purchased the building to accommodate its growing team. Three construction firms were invited to bid on the project. Honor Construction thought creatively about the space - and the budget - to help win the bid.

TIMELINE: 16 WEEKS

SCOPE: TOTAL RENOVATION

MAKING IT HAPPEN

Honor Construction worked closely with Maxam Architecture and Compass Insurance to imagine and build a space that met all requirements within a strict budget. Some existing materials were reused to help save costs. And others were donated to Habitat for Humanity. The renovation transformed a raw space into a premier office facility. The building now features collaborative work spaces, a clean and contemporary reception area, and a full kitchen. It also includes several premium offices and a state-of-the-art conference room.

WHAT THE CLIENT HAD TO SAY

Problem solvers, solution creators! This was a large renovation with a few hidden complications due to the age of the building. Honor Construction tackled any issues with creativity and ease. They worked side-by-side with us to build a space that met - and exceeded - our expectations.

JACK HOEDEMAN

