

Photography by McA Media

Kids' Food Basket

KIDS FOOD BASKET LEARNING BARN

THE OPPORTUNITY

For years, our owner Brad Laackman has wanted to assist in the great work at Kids Food Basket and when the time came for this Learning Barn project; the fit was apparent

TIMELINE: 100 DAYS (MID AUGUST 2019 TO EARLY DECEMBER 2019)

SCOPE: A commercially designed barn to support the altruistic learning of “where your food comes from” shares the use in training and teaching as much as gatherings and utility tasks for the working farm adjacent

MAKING IT HAPPEN

Many logistic challenges came about in this project. From access on Leonard, utilities from the main building, coordinating the Greenhouse contractor, and weather.

WHAT THE CLIENT HAD TO SAY

HONOR
CONSTRUCTION

Kids' Food Basket had a great experience working with Honor Construction! Their team communicated efficiently and effectively throughout the whole project and were excellent partners in finding ways to meet the organization's needs while staying within the budget. As a nonprofit organization, this kind of partnership was essential to us in meeting our mission and being good stewards of every dollar. Honor Construction's leadership and team knew and understood that—which made them excellent partners in building this community resource.

BRIDGET CLARK WHITNEY, EXECUTIVE DIRECTOR, KIDS FOOD BASKET

KIDS FOOD BASKET
LEARNING BARN